Goat for Dinner?

The young couple invited their elderly preacher for Sunday dinner. While they were in the kitchen preparing the meal, the minister asked their young son what they were having. "Goat," the little boy replied. "Goat?" replied the startled man of the cloth, "Are you sure about that?"

"Yep," said the youngster. "I heard Dad say to Mom, "Today is just as good as any to have the old goat for dinner.""

A young pastor was having trouble keeping his congregation from falling asleep while he preached. He went to a much older preacher who told him, "Son, you just have to make our sermons more exiting."

After spending days contemplating the problem, the young preacher decided nothing was more exciting than sex, so he spent days working on his sex sermon.

All set, he became concerned with what his wife would say about his preaching the subject. But luck was with him... come Sunday, his wife said to him, "I’m not feeling well this morning, so I don’t think I’ll go."

That suited him fine, but as he walked out the door she asked, "What will you be preaching about?"

Caught short, he hesitated and then said, "Sailing."

That afternoon, a couple of the church ladies came calling on the preacher’s wife. After visiting a bit, one lady said, "Your husband certainly delivered wonderful sermon this morning."

"And he certainly seemed to know what he was talking about."

The preacher’s wife looked baffled, then said, "I don’t quite understand. He’s only done it twice... the first time it made him sick and the second time he lost his hat."

submitted by James H., Angola, LA

A cannibal is invited to a two week survival course in the mountains.

The instructions say he can also bring one friend. But when he arrives, he brings six people.

The organizer is shocked: "Come on Al, what the heck, the invitation said you can only bring one person!"

"Yeah, but it also said bring your own food, didn’t it!?"

All humor (satire) is to be taken as humor, and does not reflect the personal or ethical beliefs of the The South Jersey Devil. Advertisers are not responsible for content. The jokes are not meant to harm or offend anyone, but to entertain and bring a smile to your day. We hope that everyone will read this publication in that spirit. The Deviler gets jokes and cartoons from various sources, so if you find any of the jokes or cartoons to be copyrighted, please let us know so that we can give credit where credit is due. All jokes, photographs, and cartoons are welcome. Send your entertaining contributions to our mailing address. Photos and artwork will not be returned. No part of the DEVILer may be reproduced by any means without express written permission from The South Jersey DEVILer.