Letters to the DEVIL are greatly appreciated but for us to print your letters we must have your name and address. This also includes any jokes that you wish to submit. NO FAXES!

Thanks, sjd

Hey DEVILer,

I'm sending you a picture of a lady who wore her house robe to our local Walmart. Sometimes I just can't believe the things that people do in my town?! LOL!

PS: Love your paper

Harriet N., Turnersville, NJ

Hello Harriet,

Glad to see that you love the DEVILer! Sorry but I can't print your picture... However, I've included a guideline for wearing a robe in public.

The rule is: The location of your mailbox shows you how far away from your house you can go in a robe before you start looking like a mental patient.

Dear Deviler,

Took my wife and kids to Sea World, Orlando, Florida.

Did you know that they have a seafood restaurant?

Well, I'm halfway through my fish burger and I realize, Oh my... I could be eating a slow learner."

Denny E., Somerville, NJ

Hey DEVILer,

I took the shell off my racing snail, thinking it would make him run faster. If anything, it made him more sluggish.

reader Miguel P., Salem, NJ

Hey DEVILer,

I see that you just had birthday and wow! You're freakin' old!

So, what is the best thing about old age?

Martin Q., Hammonton, NJ

Hello Martin!

The best thing about old age is that it doesn't last that long.

Hey Deviler,

So what do you think of our state of affairs since the election? I would like your right wing opinion!

Sasha C., Glassboro, NJ

Dear Sasha,

Wow... Its good to see that a few liberals do in-fact read the Devil. Now that's funny! But to cut to the chase: I Think That America Should Be Run Like A Business... Not A Charity. I think that before

Hey DEVILer,

I always wondered what the job application is like at Hooters. I'd love to be the job interviewer for that company!

Frederick A., Elk Township, NJ

Hi Fred,

(There is no job application) They just give the young lady a bra and say, "Here, fill this out?"

Dear DEVILer,

Sometimes I look at my husband and think "Damn you are one lucky SOB."

Samantha W., Voorhees NJ

Hi DEVILer,

I really need your advice on a serious problem. I have suspected for some time now that my wife has been cheating on me. You know, just the usual signs: The phone rings and when I answer, the caller hangs up. Plus, she goes out with 'the girls' a lot. I usually try to stay awake to look out for her when she comes home, but I always fall asleep.

Anyway, last night about 1AM, I woke up and she was not home. So, I hid in the garage, behind my boat and waited for her. When she came home, she got out of someone's car, buttoning her blouse.

It was at that moment, while crouched behind the boat, that I noticed a hairline crack in the outboard motor mounting bracket (Its a sea drive). Is that something I can weld, or do I need to replace the whole Bracket?"

Brendon D., Port Norris, NJ

Dear Brendon,

I'm guessing that your bracket is an aluminum casting? Aluminum welding repairs can be tricky. The level of difficulty depends on the service environment it was subject to... I think that its best to replace the entire mount.

Hey Deviler,

I wanted to do something for the homeless... so I bought my ex-wife a tent.

Paying Your Taxes

A nervous taxpayer was unhappily conversing with the IRS auditor who had come to review his records. At one point the auditor exclaimed, "Mr. Tatzy, we feel it is a great privilege to be allowed to live and work in the USA. As a citizen you have an obligation to pay taxes, and we expect you to eagerly pay them with a smile."

Thank God," returned Mr. Tatzy, "I thought you were going to want cash!"
