Hey DEVILer.... The other day I asked a Mexican guy what he thought of Trump's wall. He said, "Not a problem gringo... We'll get over it"

sent in by Tonto Q., Hammonton, NJ

The Captain called the Gunnery Sergeant in. "Gunny, I just got a message that PFC Jones' ex-wife died yesterday. Better go tell him and send him in to see me."

So the Gunnery Sergeant calls for his morning formation and lines up all the troops. "Listen up, men," says the Gunny. "Johnson, report to the mess hall for KP. Smith, report to personnel to sign some papers. The rest of you men report to the motor pool for maintenance. Oh, and by the way, Private Jones, your ex-wife died, report to the commander."

Later that day the captain called the gunnery sergeant into his office. "Hey, Gunny, that was a pretty cold way to inform Jones his ex-wife died. Couldn't you be a bit more tactful, next time?"

"Yes, sir," answered the Gunnery Sergeant.

A few months later, the Captain called the Sergeant in again with, "Gunny, I just got a telegram that McGrath's ex-wife died. You'd better go tell him and send him in to see me. This time be more tactful."

So the gunny calls for his morning formation. "Ok, men, fall in and listen up... everybody with an ex-wife, take two steps forward..... Not so fast, McGrath!" submitted by Lance Corporal Rodger M., retired Beaufort, SC submitted by Alex W. of Elmer, NJ. -joke was told to him by his WWII veteran grandpop. There was a young soldier, who, just before the battle, told his sergeant that he didn't have a rifle.

"That's not a problem, son," said the sergeant. "Here, take this broom. Just point it at the Germans, and go 'Bangety Bang Bang'."

"But what about a bayonet, Sarge?" asked the young (gullible) recruit.

The sergeant pulls a piece of straw from the end of the broom, and attaches it to the handle end.

"Here, use this... just go, 'Stability Stab Stab'."

The recruit ends up alone on the battlefield, holding just his broom. Suddenly, a German soldier charges at him.

The recruit points the broom, "Bangety Bang Bang!"

The German falls dead.

More Germans appear.

The recruit, amazed at his good luck, goes "Bangety Bang Bang! Stability Stab Stab!"

He mows down the enemy by the dozens.

Finally, the battlefield is clear, except for one German soldier walking slowly toward him.

"Bangety Bang Bang!" shouts the recruit.

The German keeps coming.

"Bangety Bang Bang!" repeats the recruit, to no avail. He gets desperate. "Bangety Bang Bang! Stability Stab Stab!"

It's no use.

The German keeps coming until he walks over the recruit pushing him down onto the ground, and saying, "Tankety Tank Tank Tank."

A little history of one great lady as told by a Vietnam Army Helicopter Pilot:

It was just before Thanksgiving 1967 and we were ferrying dead and wounded from a battle area just west of Pleiku. We had run out of body bags by noon, so the Hook (CH-47 CHINOOK) was pretty rough in the back. We were headed to the USAF hospital pad at Pleiku.

All of a sudden, we heard a 'take-charge' woman's voice in the rear.

There was the singer and actress, Martha Raye, with a Special Forces beret and jungle fatigues, with subdued markings, helping the wounded into the Chinook, and carrying the dead aboard. Maggie had been visiting her Special Forces (SF) 'heroes' out 'west'.

As we all started unloading our sad cargo, a USAF Captain said to Martha... "Ms. Raye, with all these dead and wounded to process, there will not be time for your show!"

To all of our surprise, she pulled on her right collar and said "Captain, see this eagle? I am a full 'Bird' in the US Army Reserve, and on this is a 'Caduceus' which means I am a Nurse, with a surgical specialty.... now, take me to your wounded!"

He said, "Yes ma'am.... follow me."

Several times at the Army Field Hospital in Pleiku, she would 'cover' a surgical shift, giving a nurse a well-deserved break. Martha is the only woman buried in the (Special Forces) cemetery at Ft Bragg.

Most of the old time entertainers were made of a lot sterner stuff than today's crop of activist bland whiners. Somehow I just can't see Brittany Spears, Paris Hilton, or Jessica Simpson doing what this woman and the other USO women, including Ann Margaret and Joey Heatherton did for our troops in past wars..... "Hand salute to all of them!"
