

Dear DEVILer... This past winter, I was vacationing in Florida. One day I was walking down the beach and I saw one of my colleagues approaching me. He is a psychologist. "You had breakfast yet," I ask?

"No."

"Let's find a place."

"Good," he says. "My car is right over there."

I get in his car, a brand-new Lincoln Continental, and right away I notice that it's a stick-shift.

I say, "You bought a new Lincoln with a stick shift? I didn't know that they made a Lincoln like this."

"They don't," he says. "I ordered it special."

"I'll bet that cost a small fortune," I replied.

"Oh, ya. You got that right."

"Why would you buy a new Lincoln with a stick shift," I asked?

He says, "My wife can't drive a stick." submitted by Richard W., Bear, DE

Guy to his buddy at a sports bar: "I got so mad at my GPS today that I told it to go to hell!"

His Buddy: "Did that work?"

Guy: "Well, it took me to my ex-wife's apartment!"

Hey Devil... Yesterday, I had a flat tire on the New Jersey turnpike. So I eased my car over to the shoulder, got out of the car and opened the trunk.

I took out two cardboard figures, unfolded them and stood them at the rear of my car facing on-coming traffic. They looked so life like you wouldn't believe it! One was a man and the other a woman, dressed in open trench coats that exposed their nude bodies and private parts to the approaching drivers.

But to my surprise, cars started slowing down to look at my lifelike couple. And, of course, traffic began backing up. Everybody tooted their horns and waved. It wasn't long before a state trooper pulled up behind me.

He got out of his car and walked towards me. I could tell he was not in a good mood!

"What's going on here?"

"My car has a flat tire," I said calmly.

"Well, what the hell are those obscene cardboard people doing here by the road?"

I couldn't believe that he didn't know. So I told him, "Those are my emergency flashers!"

In America: we take money from those who work hard for it and give it those who do not or will not work.

The "Father of Traffic Safety" William Eno invented the stop sign, crosswalk, traffic circle, one-way street, and taxi stand—but never learned how to drive. Thus, never got the chance to benefit from his own invention.

Obamacare Doctor: "I've found a great new drug that can help you with your sleeping problem."

Obamacare Patient: "Great, how often do I have to take it?"

Obamacare Doctor: "Every two hours." Andrew B., Woodbury, NJ

One Sunday a cowboy went to church. When he entered, he saw that he and the preacher were the only ones present. The preacher asked the cowboy if he wanted him to go ahead and preach. The cowboy said, "Well, I ain't too smart, but if I went to feed my cattle and only one showed up, I'd feed him."

So the minister began his sermon. 30 minutes passed, then an hour, then two hours. The preacher finally finished and came down to ask the cowboy how he liked the sermon.

The cowboy put a plug of tobacco in his cheeks and answered slowly, "Well, I ain't very smart, but if I went to feed my cattle and only one showed up, I sure wouldn't feed him all the hay..."
