

Last Munchkin from 'The Wizard of Oz, dead at 98.

McSmally, a New Jersey native, stood just 3 feet, 4 inches and was best known for playing a member of the Lollipop Guild, the group of little people who welcomed Dorothy to Munchkin Land in Oz.

He had worked at a local brewery for over 50 years. It happened around noon, he had just returned to work after eating a lunch and drinking a couple of brews when he tripped on the walkway and fell over into the beer vat and drowned.

His foreman thought it should be his job to inform the 27 year old widow of her husband's death.

He showed up at the front door and rang the bell. When she came to the door, he said, "I'm sorry to tell you, but poor old Roddy passed away at work today when he fell into the beer vat and drowned."

She wept for some time and between sobs asked, "Tell me, did he suffer?"

"I don't think so," said the foreman. "He got out three times to go to the little man's room."

Two Tennessee rednecks are out hunting, and as they are walking along they came upon a huge hole in the ground.

They approach it and are amazed at the size of it.

The first hunter says, "Wow, that's some hole; I can't even see the bottom. I wonder how deep it is?"

The second hunter says, "I don't know. Let's throw somethin' down there, listen and see how long it takes to hit bottom."

The first hunter says, "Hey, there's an old car transmission over there. Give me a hand, we'll throw it in and see."

So they pick it up and carry it over and count one, two, three and heave it in the hole. They are standing there listening, looking over the edge, when they hear a rustling behind them. As they turn around, they see a jackass come crashing through the underbrush, run up to the hole and, without hesitation, jump in headfirst.

While they are standing there staring at each other in amazement, peering into the hole, trying to figure out what that was all about, an old farmer saunters up.

"Say there," says the farmer, "You fellers didn't happen to see my jackass around here anywhere, did you?"

The first hunter says, "Funny you should ask, but we were just standing here a minute ago and a jackass came running out of the bushes doin' bout a hunnert miles an hour and jumped . . . headfirst into this here hole!!"

The old farmer said, "Naw, that's impossible . . . I had him chained to a transmission."
