Dear DEVILer.. This happened in South Jersey (near Atsion) back in the fifties. Even though it sounds like an Alfred Hitchcock tale, it's true.

Barry was on the side of the road (Rt. 206) hitchhiking on a dark and stormy fall night. The night was getting darker and the rain came harder, and no cars went by. The storm was so strong he could hardly see a few feet ahead of him. Suddenly Barry saw a car come toward him and stop.

Without thinking about it, Barry got in the car and closed the door. Just as he realized there was nobody behind the wheel, the car started to move. As his panic set in, he looked at the road and saw a curve coming his way. Scared beyond belief, he started to pray, begging for his life. Just when the car got to the curve, and Barry thought it was all over, a hand appeared through the window and moved the wheel.

Barry was paralyzed in terror as he watched the hand appear every time the car headed towards the side of the road.

Gathering strength, Barry jumped out of the car and ran to the nearest building (The Piccalilli Inn). Wet and in shock, he went to the bar and asked for two shots of Imperial (whiskey). He started telling everyone about the horrible experience he went through. The crowd sat in an eerie silence when they realized that Barry was crying and wasn't drunk.

About half an hour later, two guys walked into the same saloon. One said to the other, "Look Walt, there's the jerk that got in the car when we were pushing it." submitted by Lew F., Tabernacle, NJ

It is easier to preach ten sermons than it is to live one.

Way back when... young Bobby Williams, a Tennessee mountain man, answered his nation's call and joined the Marines.

On the first day of boot camp, the Corps issued him a tooth brush. That afternoon, a Navy dentist yanked several of his teeth.

On the second day, the Corps issued him a comb. That afternoon, a Navy barber shaved his head.

On the third day, he was issued a jock strap.....
The Marine Corps is still looking for him.

You haven't experienced true heartbreak until you've been thinking about leftovers all day then come home to find that someone ate them.

SEMINAR

A group of women were at a seminar on how to live in a loving relationship with their husbands. The women were asked, "How many of you love your husband?" All the women raised their hands.

Then they were asked, "When was the last time you told your husband you loved him?"

Some women answered today, a few yesterday, and some couldn't remember.

The women were then asked to take out their cell phones and text their husband, "I love you, Sweetheart."

Next the women were instructed to exchange phones with one another and read aloud the text message they received in response to their message.

Below are 12 funny replies. If you have been married for quite a while, you understand that these replies are a sign of true love. Who else would reply in such a succinct and honest way?

1. Who the hell is this?
2. Eh, mother of my children, are you sick or what?
3. Yeah, and I love you too. What's wrong?
4. What now? Did you crash the car again?
5. I don't understand what you mean.
6. Okay... what did you do now?
7. Don't beat about the bush, just tell me how much you need.
8. Am I dreaming?
9. If you don't tell me who this message is actually for, someone will die.
10. I thought we agreed you wouldn't drink during the day.
11. Your mother is coming to stay with us, isn't she?
12. I told you never to call me at work.

Hey DEVILer... At my age, rolling out of bed in the morning is the easiest part. Getting off the floor is a whole other story.
