The retired older army veteran returned to a Corvette dealership where the salesman has just sold the car he had been interested in to a beautiful, leggy, busty blonde in a mini skirt and a halter top.

The old man was visibly upset. He spoke to the salesman sharply, "Young man, I thought you said you would hold that car till we raised the $85,000 asking price. Yet I just overheard you closed the deal for $72,000 to the lovely young lady there. And if I remember right, you had insisted there was no way you could discount this model."

The salesman took a deep breath, cleared his throat and reached for a bottle of water. "Well, what can I tell you? She had the cash ready, didn't need any financing help, and, Sir, just look at her, how could I resist?" replied the grinning salesman sheepishly.

Just then the young woman approached the old man and gave the car keys to him. "There you go," she said. "I told you I could get that idiot to lower the price. See ya later Dad... and have a great Veterans Day."

"I would suggest, sir, instead of building more toilets, maybe we should get a new cook!"

Dear DEVIL... My 5-year-old grandson was sitting down to eat when I asked him to pray for his meal. He replied, "Grandma we don't have to. We prayed over this last night." His mother had prepared leftovers from the day before. Flo R., Westville, NJ

It's the evening before Thanksgiving, and the butcher is just locking up his shop when a man begins pounding on the front door.

"Please let me in," says the man desperately. "I forgot to buy a turkey, and my wife will kill me if I don't come home with one."

"Okay," says the butcher. "Let me see what I have left." He goes into the freezer and discovers that there's only one scrawny turkey left. He brings it out to show the man.

"Wow, that one is too skinny, what else you got?" says the man.

The butcher takes the bird back into the freezer and waits a few minutes and brings the same turkey back out to the man.

"Oh, no," says the man, "That one doesn't look any better. You better give me both of them!"
