One day while walking down the street a senior congresswoman was tragically hit by a bus and died. Her soul arrived up in heaven where she was met at the pearly gates by St. Peter himself.

"Welcome to Heaven," said St. Peter. "Before you get settled in though, it seems we have a problem. You see, strangely enough, we've never once had a congresswoman make it this far, and we're not really sure what to do with you."

"No problem, just let me in." said the congresswoman.

"Well, I'd like to, but I have higher orders. What we're going to do is let you have a day in Hell and a day in Heaven and then you can choose whichever one you want, to spend an eternity in."

"Actually, I think I've made up my mind; I prefer to stay in Heaven", said the congresswoman.

"Sorry, we have rules..."

And with that, St. Peter put the executive in an elevator and it went down-down-down to hell. The doors opened and she found herself stepping out onto the putting green of a beautiful golf course. In the distance was a country club and standing in front of her were all her political friends - fellow politicians whom she had worked with, and they were all dressed in evening gowns and cheering for her.

They ran up and kissed her on both cheeks and they talked about old times. They played an excellent round of golf and at night went to the country club where she enjoyed a steak and lobster dinner.

She met the Devil who was actually a really nice guy (kinda cute) and she had a great time drinking cocktails and dancing. She was having such a good time that before she knew it, it was time to leave. Everybody shook her hand and waved good bye as she got on the elevator. The elevator went up-up-up and opened back up at the Pearly Gates and she found St. Peter waiting for her.

"Now it's time to spend a day in Heaven," he said. So she spent the next 24 hours lounging around on clouds and playing the harp and singing. She had a great time and before she knew it her 24 hours were up and St. Peter came and got her.

"So, you've spent a day in Hell and you've spent a day in Heaven. Now you must choose your eternity," he said.

The congresswoman paused for a second and then replied, "Well, I never thought I'd say this, I mean, Heaven has been really great and all, but I think I had a better time in Hell.... Besides, all my friends are there."

So St. Peter escorted her to the elevator and again she went down-down-down, back to Hell. When the doors of the elevator opened she found herself standing in a desolate wasteland covered in garbage and filth. A lot like Nancy Pelosi's California's 12th. congressional district.

She saw her friends were dressed in rags and were picking up the garbage and putting it in sacks. The Devil came up to her and put his arm around her.

"I don't understand," stammered the congresswoman, "yesterday I was here and there was a golf course and a country club and we ate lobster and we danced and had a great time. Now all there is, is a wasteland of garbage and all my friends look miserable."

The Devil looked at her and smiled. "Yesterday we were recruiting you. Today, you're STAFF."

Due to present day events the DEVILer believes that it is important to present this refresher course on....

Democrats say the president is out of control...

What they mean is the president is out of THEIR control. And they are pissed off!

Burglar's relative says: "He could have used a warning shot first..."

From Dallas Morning News, we get this heartwarming tale of a long-time criminal 33 year old Deyfon Pipkin, who tried to climb in a window of a Texas home.

The elderly owner occupant saw him and fired one shot, ending Deyfon's criminal career. As the police came by to investigate, gathered the corpse, then went to notify Deyfon's family of his unfortunate demise. It seems that the family was very upset, because they showed up at the scene. "He could have used a warning," Lakesha Thompson, Pipkins' sister-in-law, complained. "He could have let him know that he did have a gun on his property and he would use it in self-defense. How's he gonna make a honest living for his family if some old dude who don't need the money caps his ass first without a warning shot?"

Unfortunate for Deyfon... Texas is a Castle Doctrine state, and the homeowner chose to shoot Deyfon, as is right and proper to do in Texas.

Castle Doctrine: is similar to "stand your ground," but is typically limited to real property, including a person's home, property and, in some states, cars or workplaces. The concept is that an individual has a right to be safe and secure within his or her own home or "castle" and should not have to retreat from his or her home in order to be safe.

A side effect in most cases is a substantial savings of taxpayer money... no investigation expense, no jail time awaiting trial, no expense of a trial, and no prison costs after sentencing.
